Job Application for Data Analyst - Mandarin and English Speaker

To Whom It May Concern:

My name is Jia Chen and I was born and raised in China. I graduated with a bachelor's degree in Mathematics (statistics) at East Tennessee State University. I learned a lot from University. There is a broad range of applications for statistics in every field; I want to apply my skills in the real world and help company gain meaningful information from data.

During my education, I held a full time position as a nail technician. I learned to communicate effectively with customers, listen to their requirements, and leave them 100% satisfied with the service. I can fit into a diverse team of people who come from different backgrounds.

I moved to Sydney, Australia September, 2019 for family reasons. My true passion is to become a data analyst. I am looking for a company that has similar values to myself where I can grow and make a positive influence. I am a motivated and curious person. I am excited to start my career as a data analyst. I believe that my passion will bring value to your company. I am looking forward to hearing from you.

Thank you,

Jia Chen
